Dear delegates,

Welcome to NHSMUN 2027 simulation of the Convention of Migratory Species! My name is Mytae Suntay, and it is an honor to serve you as the Session I Director for CMS. This is my fourth year doing NHSMUN. I did NHSMUN my last two years of high school, and this will be my second year doing NHSMUN as a director. In fact, this is my third year doing CMS. I was a delegate for CMS my senior year of high school, as the United States of America. However, NHSMUN was not the only MUN experience I gained in high school. In high school, I participated in my high school's MUN team and also served as the USG of Records for our high school conference, Silicon Valley Model United Nations.

Outside of Model UN, I am a second-year student at De Anza College as an aerospace engineering major. I love math and sciences. If I am ever stressed, calculus is a great way to calm me down. I find it so satisfactory solving for a solution and it being correct. Therefore, if I were not in aerospace engineering, I would probably end up being a calculus teacher instead. Although I am from San Jose, CA, I find myself traveling all over the world, particularly in Southeast Asia. So far, I have traveled to the Philippines, Vietnam, and Taiwan! Besides traveling, I love to sing karaoke, crochet, and create latte art in my free time.

Overall, I am immensely excited to meet you all at NHSMUN, and I cannot wait to see all of you grow within the committee. This committee is near and dear to my heart, and I would love to share that experience with you. Whether you are an experienced delegate or a beginner delegate, questions are always welcome! I am always here, if you ever need help, so do not be afraid to reach out! Let us save the endangered migratory species together!

Sincerely,

Mytae Suntay

Dear delegates,

Hi everyone! My name is Logan Kustra, and I am super excited to serve as your Session II NHSMUN Director for CMS. Combined, this is my third year participating in NHSMUN through both debating and staffing. I first attended NHSMUN in 2024 as a delegate, returned last year as an assistant director for FAO, and am now serving as your CMS Director this year.

Currently, I am a sophomore at UC Santa Cruz studying MCD biology. I was born and raised in Huntington Beach, California, where I participated in Model United Nations throughout all four years of high school. During that time, I debated in many different committees and styles of MUN while attending high school, college, and international conferences. Although I am not currently active in the collegiate circuit, I continue to stay involved in the MUN world through NHSMUN and similar extracurriculars in college. As you can probably tell, my love for Model United Nations is not exactly ordinary, and I look forward to bringing that same energy to the committee as we explore these topics together.

Outside of Model United Nations, I enjoy giving back to my community, especially through opportunities that involve helping animals. Since I hope to one day become a veterinarian, I always try to carve out time to stay involved with the Pre-Veterinary Club at UCSC or plan philanthropy events as the philanthropy chair for my fraternity. On a more regular basis, I love going out with friends and trying new things, whether that means trying new food, playing intramural sports, or finding more ways to procrastinate on my homework.

Growing up in Huntington Beach, it is no surprise that I spend a lot of time at the beach or doing just about anything related to it. When I am not outdoors, you can usually find me in my room on a losing streak in whatever video game I am playing, catching up with friends, or watching movies. I love exploring new things and expanding my interests, which have made writing and learning about both of these topics especially interesting.

The Convention on Migratory Species is especially meaningful because it is the only global, UN-based treaty dedicated to protecting migratory animals, which opens the door to so many diverse and creative ideas. In both this committee and NHSMUN as a whole, we value different perspectives and collaboration, so please feel free to explore these topics in any way you would like. With that said, I am extremely excited to meet you all, hear your ideas, and see them come to life throughout the conference!

Best,

Logan Kustra
CMS Director, Session II
